INTRODUCTION

The training course on "Geotechnical Investigations for River Valley Projects" is being organized by the Central Soil and Materials Research Station as a regular feature of the training programme of CSMRS. The training course is intended to assist and enable the technical personnel to gain knowledge of the Geotechnical Investigations for River Valley Projects.

Geotechnical Investigation plays a major role in the designing and construction of any River Valley Project. It is in-fact performed to evaluate the geologic, seismologic, and soil conditions that affect the safety, cost effectiveness, design, and execution of a proposed engineering project. Insufficient geotechnical investigations, faulty interpretation of results, or failure to portray results in a clearly understandable manner may contribute to inappropriate designs, delays in construction schedules, costly construction modifications, use of substandard borrow material, environmental damage to the site, post construction remedial work, and even failure of a structure and subsequent litigation. It is in view of these facts that this training course is being organized so as to enable us to share our experience and expertise that has been gathered and evolved over a period of time to all our fellow engineers and personnel involved in this profession.

The contents of the Training Course have been so chosen that these provide an overall view of the geotechnical investigation. It covers various aspects such as introduction to geotechnical investigations, field investigations and instrumentation for earth and rockfill dams, laboratory, geophysical and chemical investigations of soils, problematic and dynamic characterisation of soils, quality control and treatment aspects for dams and numerical modelling facilities in CSMRS.

SHARING OF EXPERIENCES

The participants will be introduced to the faculty members of CSMRS and other experts from outside as well as well-equipped laboratories of the Research Station and shall be encouraged to share their experience/problems, thereby making the course more interactive rather than descriptive in nature.

COURSE FACULTY

Faculty shall comprise experienced professionals. They shall share the knowledge and vast experience during the training course.

VENUE AND DATES

The course will be held at Central Soil and Materials Research Station, Olof Palme Marg, Near IIT Hostel, Hauz Khas, New Delhi-110016, on 12th & 13th December, 2019 from 10:00 Hrs.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

The course is primarily meant for officers of the rank of Deputy Director /Executive Engineer/ Assistant Engineer, etc from Central/State Government Departments, Research Institutions, Public and Private Sector Undertakings engaged in design, construction, repair, rehabilitation and monitoring of river valley projects.
